

FRIDAY 13 OCTOBER 2017

COMPULSORY PURCHASE ORDERS: THE BASICS AND BEYOND

This training session will give you practical guidance on how to make a successful CPO. As we go through the day, we will break down the different stages of the process, incorporating the many recent changes to the law, and give you practical tips based on our extensive experience. We will discuss lots of real-life examples and show you how a CPO is made by talking you through a real case from start to successful conclusion.

The course will include:

- What are CPOs and when might they be used?
- Making a compelling case in the public interest
- Useful CPO powers – the law and government advice
- When is it appropriate to proceed with a CPO?
- Making and confirming the Order
- Dealing with Objections
- What might trip you up?
- Compensation

THE TRAINERS

Jane Linley

Jane is the head of nplaw's Planning Law Team. She is a solicitor and qualified teacher with many years' experience of planning, CPOs and enforcement within a local authority context.

Fiona Anthony

Fiona has worked in local government for many years and is a Professional Support Lawyer at nplaw. Also a solicitor and qualified teacher, she has undertaken extensive research on CPOs.

9.30am until 4.15pm

The event will take place at

Friends House,

Euston Road,

London NW1 2BJ